Boarding Home Is One of Its Principle Departments.

STATEMENT BY SECRETARY

Miss Johnstone has issued the following general statement about the work:

"The boarding home for young women is only one of the departments of work of the Young Women's Christian association. Experience in general city association work has proved that it is better to have such a home apart from headquarters, aithough occasionally a city erects a building which provides for all departments under one roof, including the hearding home.

ments under one roof, including the boarding home.

"Usually the boarding home naturally grews out of other lines of active work, but in Salt Lake City it has been the first step taken toward establishing a permanent, progressive work distinctively for women. The reason may be found in the following true story:

Where Is the Y. W. C. A? prominent Christian worker overheard a conversation between two young heard a conversation between two young women on a street car. As they passed the Y. M. C. A. building one girl, apparently a stranger, exclaimed: 'Young Men's Christian association! Where's the Young Women's?' Her companion answered: 'Oh, Salt Lake doesn't have a Young Women's Christian association—girls are sent to the Crittendon home!'

"The woman's heart was so touched."

girls are sent to the Crittendon home! "The woman's heart was so touched that she used this little story as a basis for a naper read before the Missionary union, in which she made a strong appeal for preventive work for girls.

"Not being in touch with the national board these enthusiastic women of Salt Lake undertook, themselves, to provide a boarding home. The present one at 255 South Second East street was wrought out of great difficulties and discouragements. Bit: thanks to the perseverance of a few brate determined women, with true mother hearts, the house was put in condition and opened for occupancy last June. Since then it has been a boon to many a young woman away from home, many a young woman away from home, and a credit to the city.

Is Home in Every Sense.

'Aside from those who are regular boarders in the house, there have been guests from at least twenty-seven different states, also from Canada, England, scotland, Germany, Australia and the Caroline islands.

"Hundreds of tourists come and go, and in this age the most natural thing for a woman traveling to do is to look up in a strange city a Young Women's Christian association home, where she may be

"If Sait Lake City had no higher motive, should she not because of the interesting place she holds among the cities of the world, seek to have one of the very best, most nearly model Young Women's Christian associations in the world? Is there any reason why she should not have?"
